Foreword

Hargrave Military Academy has been a cogent force in the lives of many cadets for fifty-seven years. Her sons will always remember the time when they were in the Corps and the many experiences which they shared with others here. She has prepared her graduates to take their place in the community, the church, the state, and the nation. Although each cadet here is different from each other in some respects, they all have shared in a common experience — they have all lived the Hargrave way of life, the Hargrave tradition. Thus, with this thought in mind, we, the editors of THE 1966 CADENCE, present an account of this the 57th continuous session of the Hargrave tradition.

It is more than four walls — a roof; it is a way of life, deep-rooted as an oak; it is longing and fulfillment, sadness and success, joy and disappointment, looking forward and looking back. It goes on for eternity, not in books or charts, or ledgers or maps, but in the still reaches of the hearts that having loved it, and afterward understood it, bears its mark forever. It is an idea, a myth, a plan — a process by which the total person is effected; it is a time to study, plan, think, and conceive — it's drill twice a week, Saturday morning inspection, required vespers; it's the lonely Saturday in your rooms — the hours you spend in self-analysis over why you are a social failure; it's a community in itself — one of genuine friendships, warmth, and depth — one of searching minds striving for cultivation, maturation — an atmosphere where we find our place for service and growth. It has meant much — a distinguished faculty — the inspiring monuments which are forever about us — a mass of buildings — a long, hard schedule; it is the school spirit — a sense of pride — a sense of belonging — honor; it is more than the splendor of tall, white columns; it is the cadet — a uniform — a sense of devotion — short hair — shined shoes — brass — an empty coffee cup — a spiffy — superballs — full ash tray — skate-boards — procrastination — abstract discussions after taps — the PX — guidance lectures — circuit training — bull ring — passes — formations — classes — homework — rank; It's an instructor giving of his own time that others may learn — it's the push — the warm afternoons on the front lawn — the Sunday parades — graduation. It's patience — bent backs and hunched shoulders — sore eyes. It is a time to learn, to remember, to collect; it is a lampost — a flicker of light — of truth. It is the cadet — the individual — the Great Society — the builders of tomorrow — dances — bluebooks and exams — term papers. It is the individual — the unit — the cadet. It is the future teachers, preachers, lawyers, statesmen, country club members, newspapers editors, parents, and leaders of the world — or it's the future civil rights marchers, ban-the-bomb groups, or radicals; but, whatever we may become, Hargrave will always remain in our hearts as trying to teach us the Christian ways and instill us all with a strong character. It's a mixture of personalities — ideas — theories; it is a unique experience — something with which we hold a high regard for — an opportunity — a time we will cherish — a period of budding — a new way of life; it is more than we can express in words, and, as alumni, it will be even more.

THIS IS HARGRAVE-1966

HARGRAVE MILITARY ACADEMY

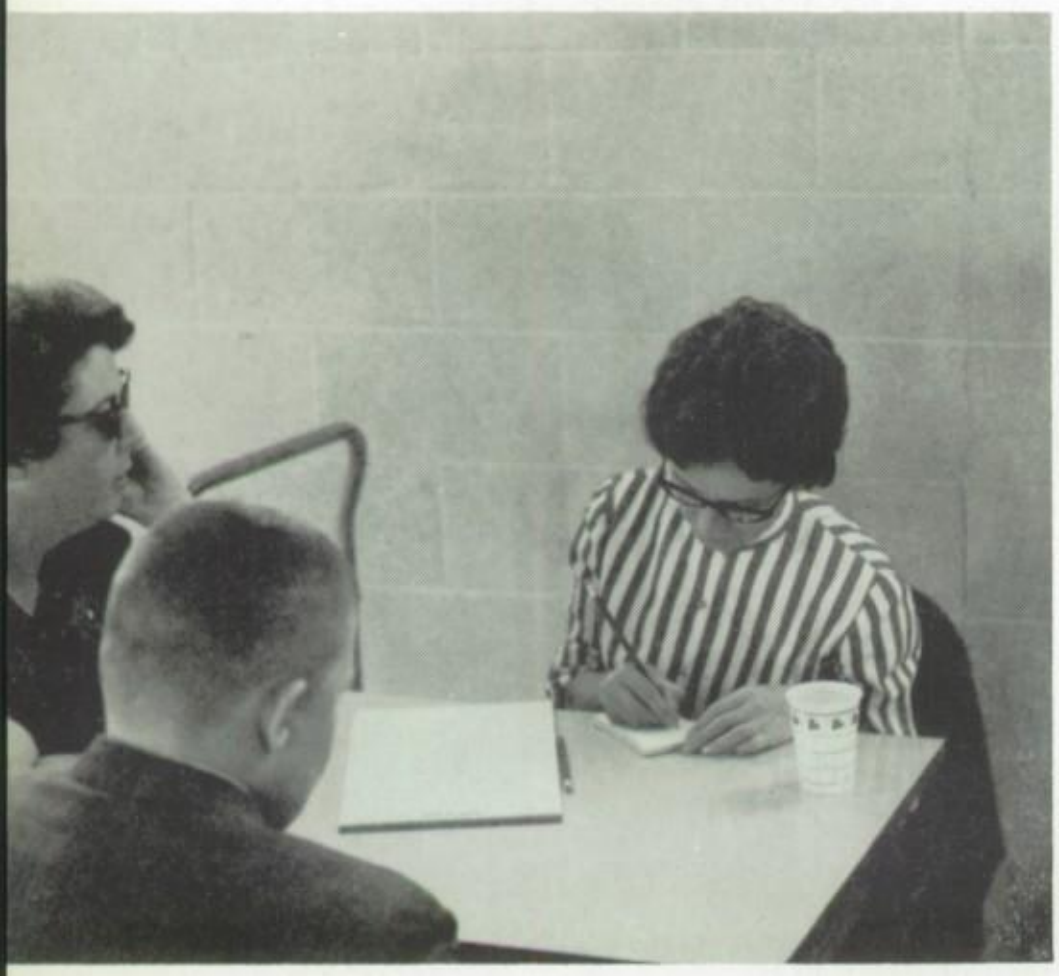
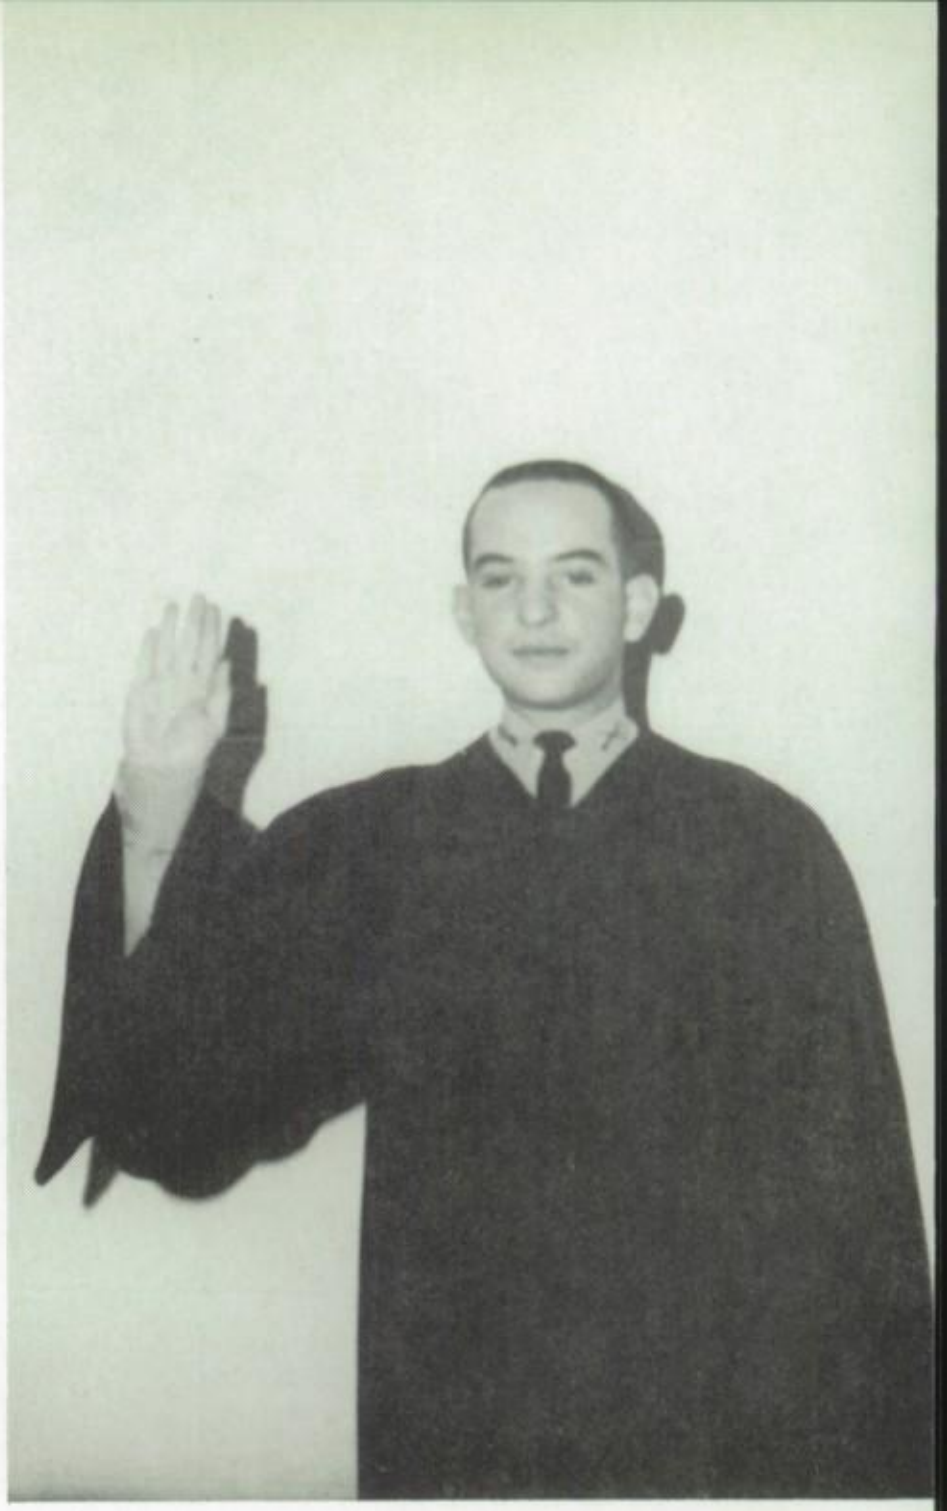
I am a new cadet and this is how I saw the year:

"We entered Hargrave on August 31 of this year, and thus we became members of the largest Cadet Corps in the 57 years of the Academy's history. It was a typical opening of school with the usual routine of events: register; sign the honor pledge; get out uniform; meet our new roommate; a typical opening, complete with the usual amount of confusion. But, all of us finally understood and realized that we were here now, and our first day of drill came all too soon. The older boys, who were back for O. C. S. that first week, told us how it was going to be — we did not believe them; we found out differently later. We were told everything from not to drink to not to throw rocks at the newly-constructed greenhouse. Finally, the newness wore off some, and we began to look forward to Parent's Weekend.

"By the middle of October, most of the cadet commissioned officers had decided they would slack off some, as it was time for Parent's Weekend. It was a good weekend, in spite of what we had heard about what usually happens during this annual event. The weekend included the usual inspection on Saturday, an over-night pass, the N. C. O. Club dance that night, and well, we all must admit it was good to get away for awhile. Then . . . it was Halloween, and we enjoyed a special dinner, which was especially prepared by the Slater System.

"Then . . . before we realized it, it was November. Many of us attended the College Night program, which was held on November 3. We frowned at our first six weeks' grades, but we promised mother to do better next time — our efforts again proved in vain. Our football team did well, however, and for this we were thankful. And, we couldn't forget about our newly formed soccer team, which also scored a number of victories. Well, before we knew it, another month had flown by, as it was now December — we would be going home soon!

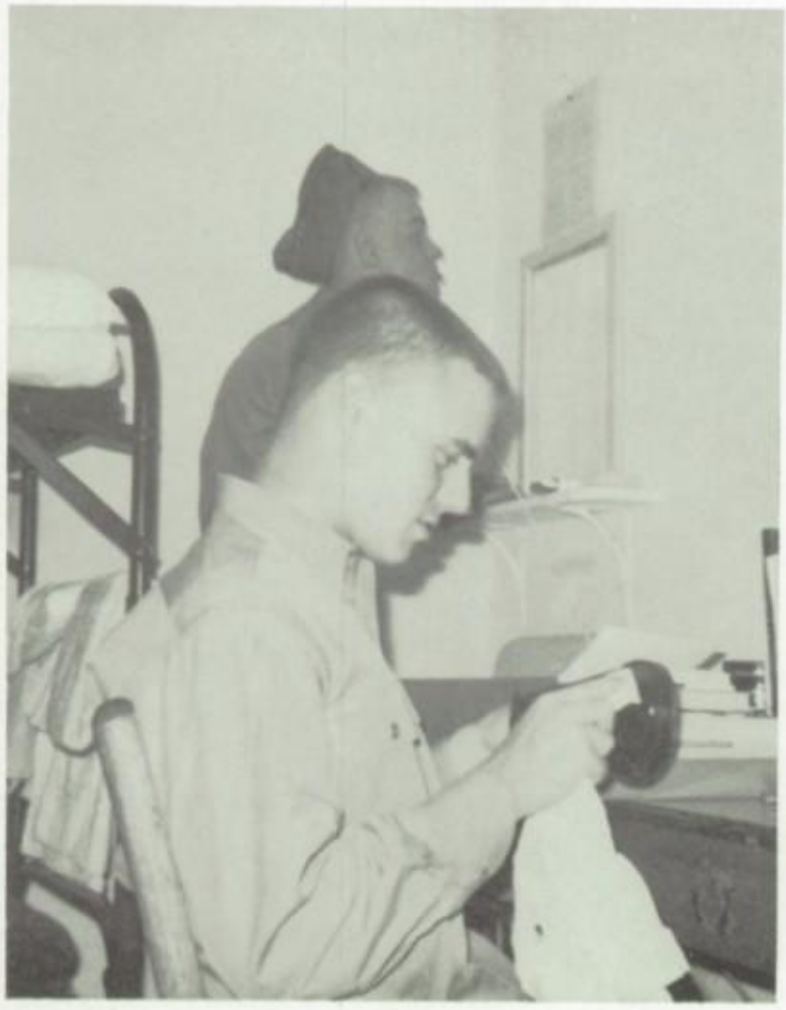


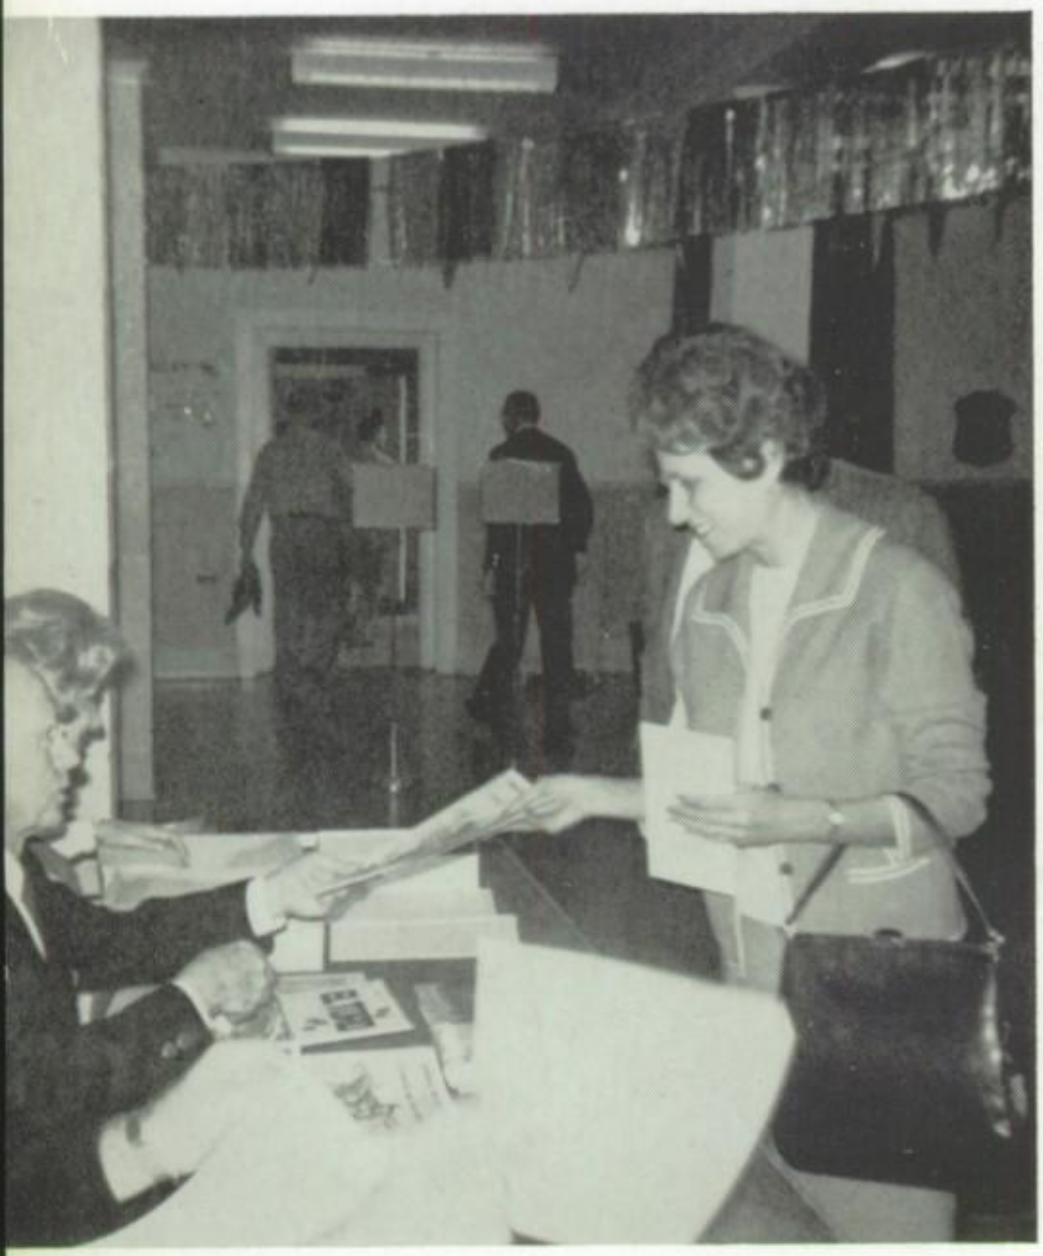


"The month of December brought many things — we finally got our class rings — we saw more cadets getting rank — four of our varsity football players made the All-Military Football Team — the faculty played the cadets in a game of soccer — the Dramatics Club presented a version of "Stalag 17" for the Corps — we went through College Boards again. Yes, we did not ever think that we were ever going to get to go home. There were term papers — book reports — S. R. A. assignments — themes constantly due — and, of course, the regular class schedule. We managed; the teachers were always reminding us that we would never get home until everything was completed. Funny how we were able to work so hard — could it be that we wanted to get home? The night before many of us went home, the Christian Activities Council sponsored the annual Faith Home Party, which left a warm feeling in everyone's heart as we left for home the next day.

"Well . . . we made it back before we even had time to do half of what we had planned to do. January was a long month — but are not they all? The CADENCE, under the leadership of its editor, sponsored a contest to stir up some excitement and to encourage everyone to buy a book — considering it was a first-time affair, it was a success, and everyone seemed happy. Religious Emphasis Week — College Boards — Senior Superlatives — Basketball games — exams — and snow made up for most of the month. Of course, since it was usually cold outside, we had military classes instead of outside drill this month.

"What few passes we were able to earn, most of us took them about this time of the year — others of us visited colleges — all in the hopes of one day going to that particular college. Some of us were hearing from our colleges — others of us heard too soon. February produced the annual Military Ball, which was hailed to be a success again this year. Seniors — believe it or not — were granted special over-night passes. Joe Aylor and Alvah Arnn were named as the valedictorian and salutatorian respectively this month — we had hoped that our chances were good, but we found out that we did not even make honorable mention. The Biology Club went to the Carolina Biological Supply Company — the Military Department treated the cadet officers and tac officers to a steak dinner in Danville — the Christian Activities Council went to Natural Bridge — the Basketball tournament was held at Staunton — and a recreation center was planned for Chatham; it was a busy month.





BEAT-DUKE+STRUNTON

"March brought a number of things — but, Spring Leave was our first concern. It had been a long time since Christmas — we had to get out. It began to turn warm this month, and we all kinda got the feeling that Spring had sprung! But the fourth grading period's marks shot that balloon out from under us. But, for some — it was another honor roll bar. After our haircut a week before leave, we stayed away from the barber, just hoping that our hair would grow out before we went home. Finally — the day came — but, we had the same amount of work to do in all of the classes as we did before Christmas. We accused the teachers of everything — we thought that we would never get home. But, the worrying was over whenever we marched into Colonel Todd's office to check-out. After paying the fine in the library, clearing with the tac officer, checking with the various teachers, turning in the various reports, getting our laundry, and cleaning up our room, we were finally able to tell the Commandant that we were ready to go.

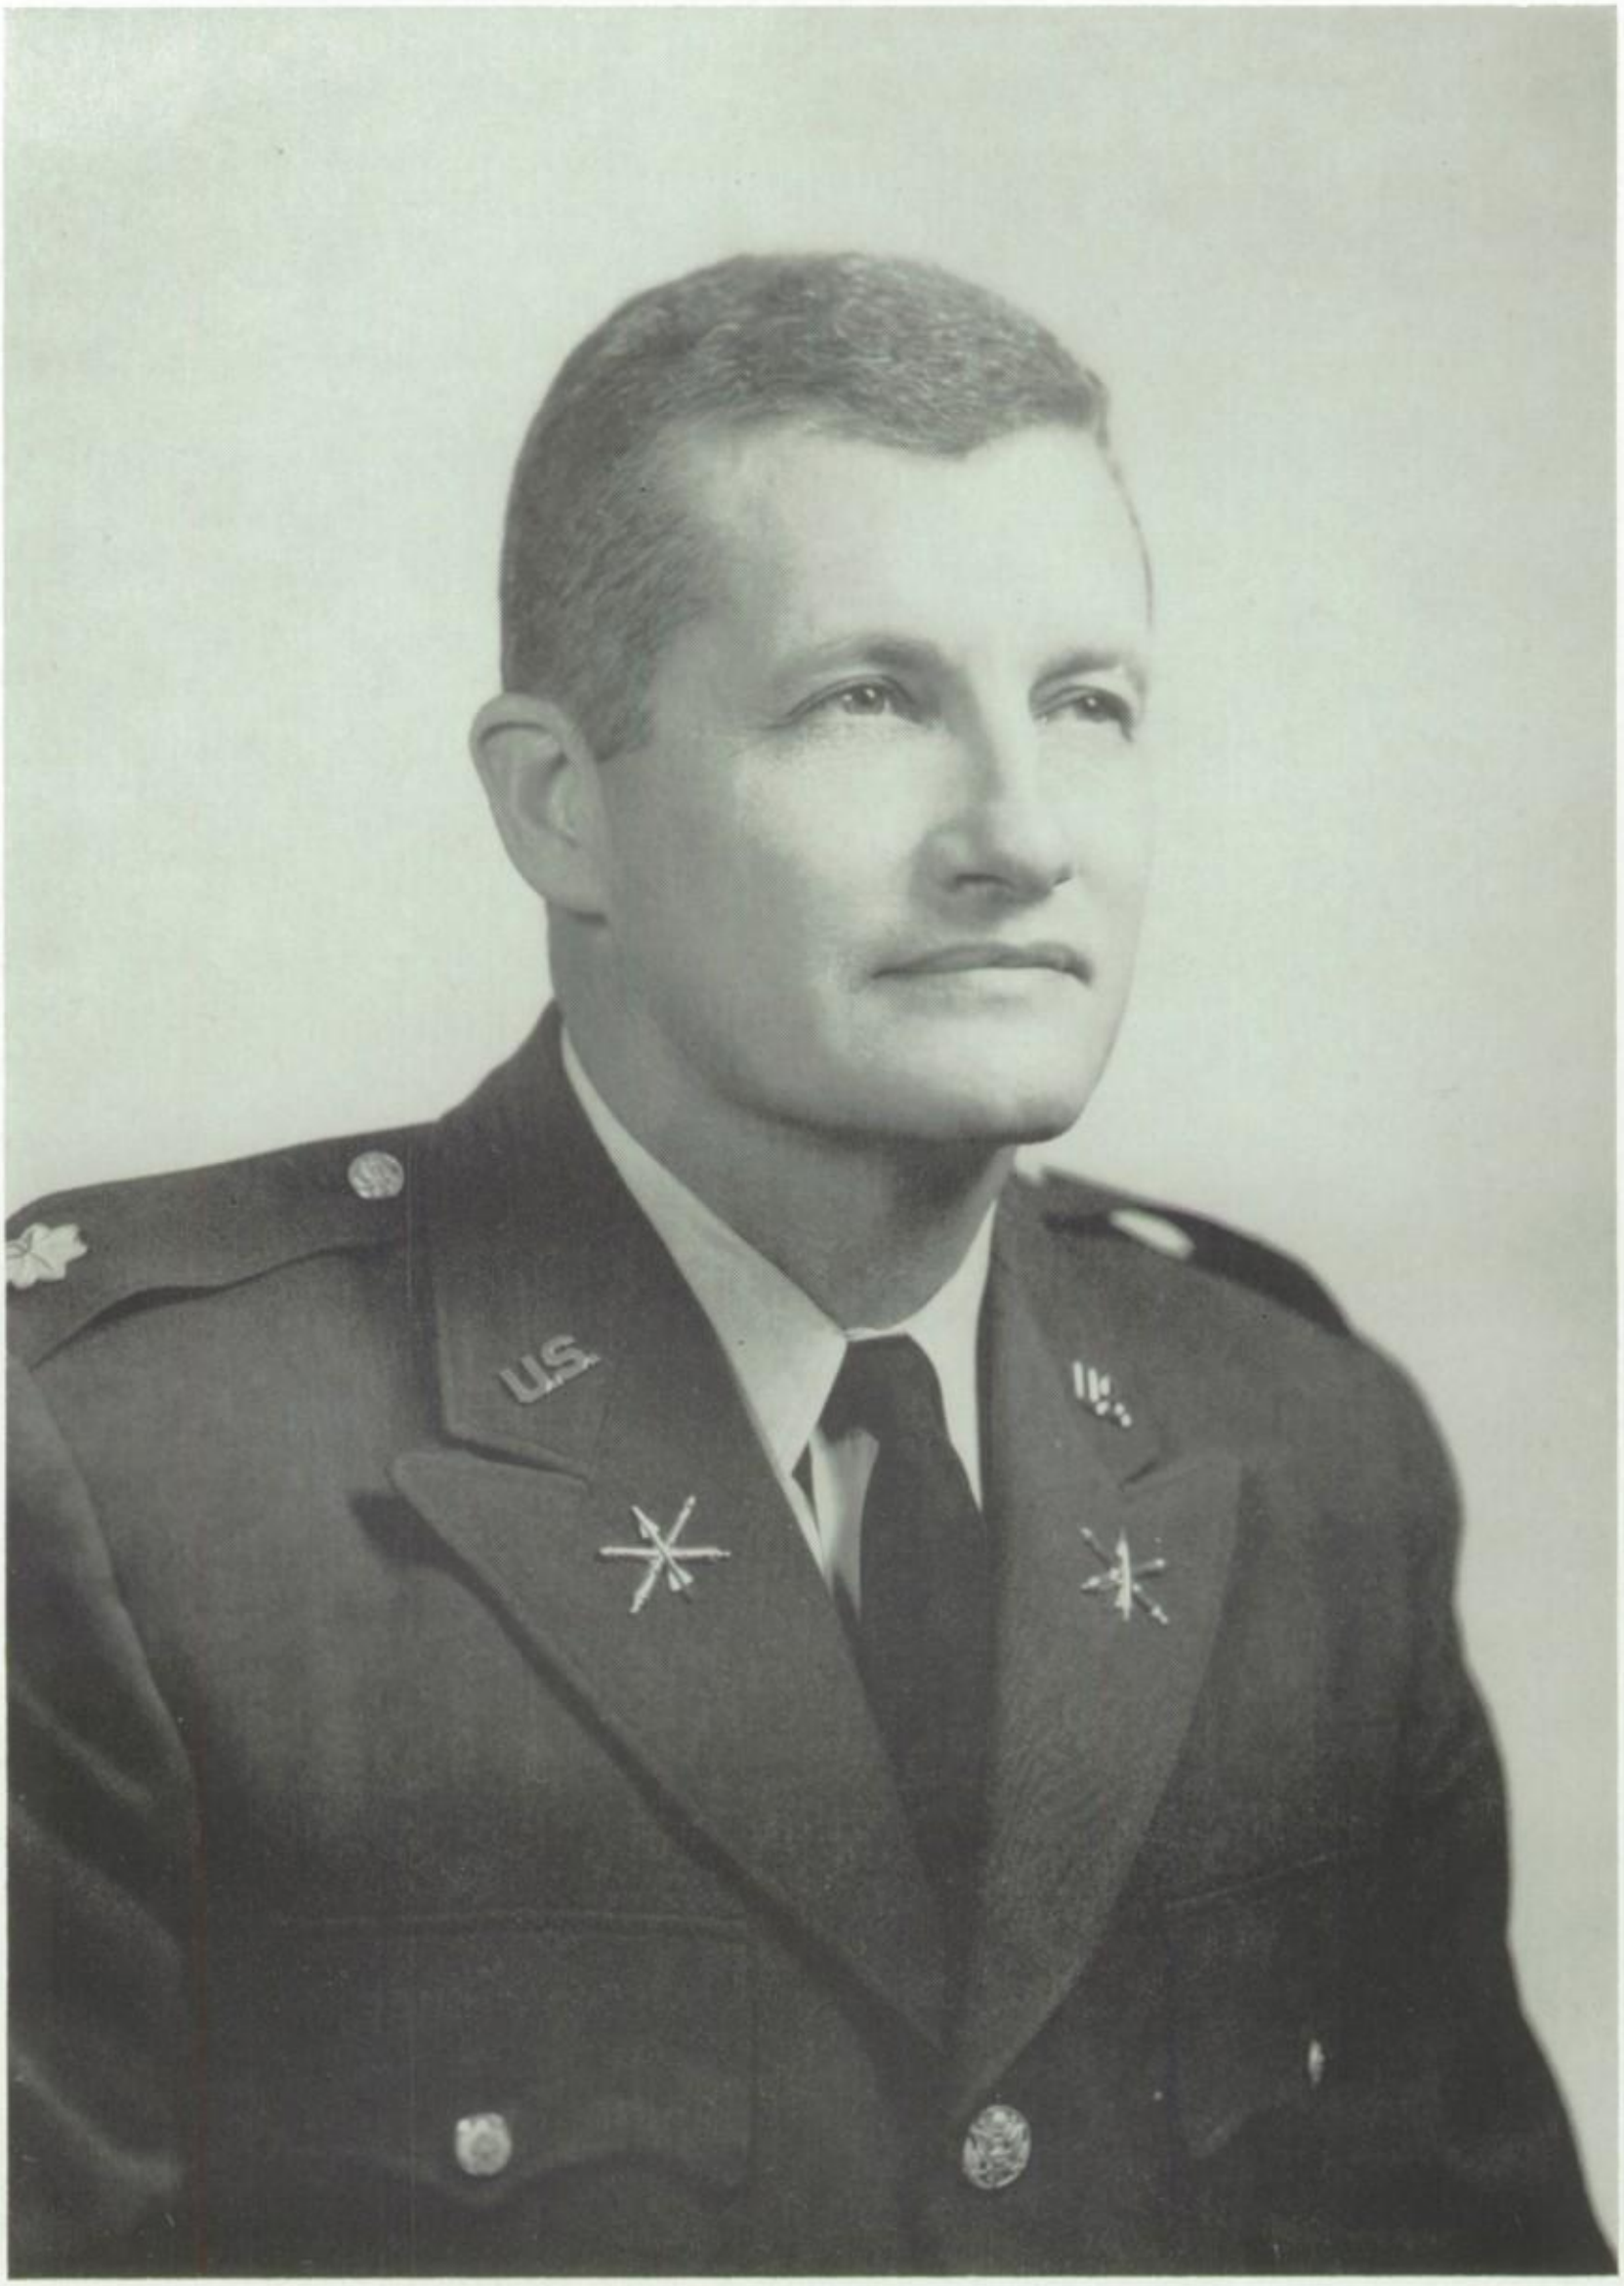
"But, it was over in ten days — we had sweated for weeks before — but it was worth it — every minute of it! Now — it was April, and we began to count the days until graduation. This month was filled with college acceptances, and most of us were glad to know that we would not be in Viet Nam next year — or, at least for the first semester. Homecoming was a good weekend, as our old buds came back. Although we did not know too many, it did not take long to get acquainted with the people who — only a few years before — had gone through the same thing. Government Inspection — Spring sports — an academic pass for some — and Easter concluded the month of April, and we moved into May — the month we had all looked forward to.

"The month of May was one of the best months of school life — it would soon be graduation for the seniors, and the end of the school year for the underclassmen; they would know how it felt in a few years. There was the baseball games; the track meets; the sessions in the sun; the last academic pass for many — everyone was looking for summer employment — others were planning on summer school — the last term papers; then — graduation — the seniors would stir at the very word.

"It had been a good year for all, and this was especially true for the Class of 1966. These young men, a strong class and a fairly large one, had left their mark on the school. They had witnessed Hargrave expand and grow; watch her climb even higher up the academic ladder; they had been a part, and they were proud. But, for them, it was not the end — it was a beginning, and a alumni of the Academy, they would remain a part — a very important part. It would be their future job to insure that Hargrave would continue to grow.

"The summer now faced us — we knew that we would see many of our friends at the beach and other places — thus, we left with a happy feeling, a sense of devotion, a spirit full of pride. Such feelings had been shared not only by us new boys, but the old boys as well. The seniors left with this sense of devotion, a spirit full of pride, and even more — that all-important Hargrave diploma — their key to the future. For the Class of 1966 it was over; now the underclassmen, who had watched us, would be next. Their year was coming.

"And, as an upperclassman, my year at Hargrave was over, but it had truly been a memorable year, and I felt honored to have been a part of it all.



LT. COLONEL ANDREW W. TODD

Commandant of Corps

Dedication

It is to Lt. Colonel Andrew W. Todd, Commandant, that we, The Class of 1966 and the staff of THE 1966 CADENCE, take pride in dedicating this fifty-seventh edition of the Hargrave yearbook.

This year marks twenty years of service to Hargrave Military Academy by Colonel Todd. A graduate of Virginia Polytechnical Institute with a B.S. degree, he has served as Professor of Military Science, adviser to the Honor Council, and coach before assuming his duties as the Commandant.

Every cadet in school knows Colonel Todd, as he is in direct contact with many of us daily. Through our years of residence here at Hargrave, we have grown to respect and admire him.

It is then to our Commandant, Lt. Colonel Andrew W. Todd, who stays at school both night and day, that we proudly dedicate this book, THE 1966 CADENCE, to him as a token of our appreciation for his service.

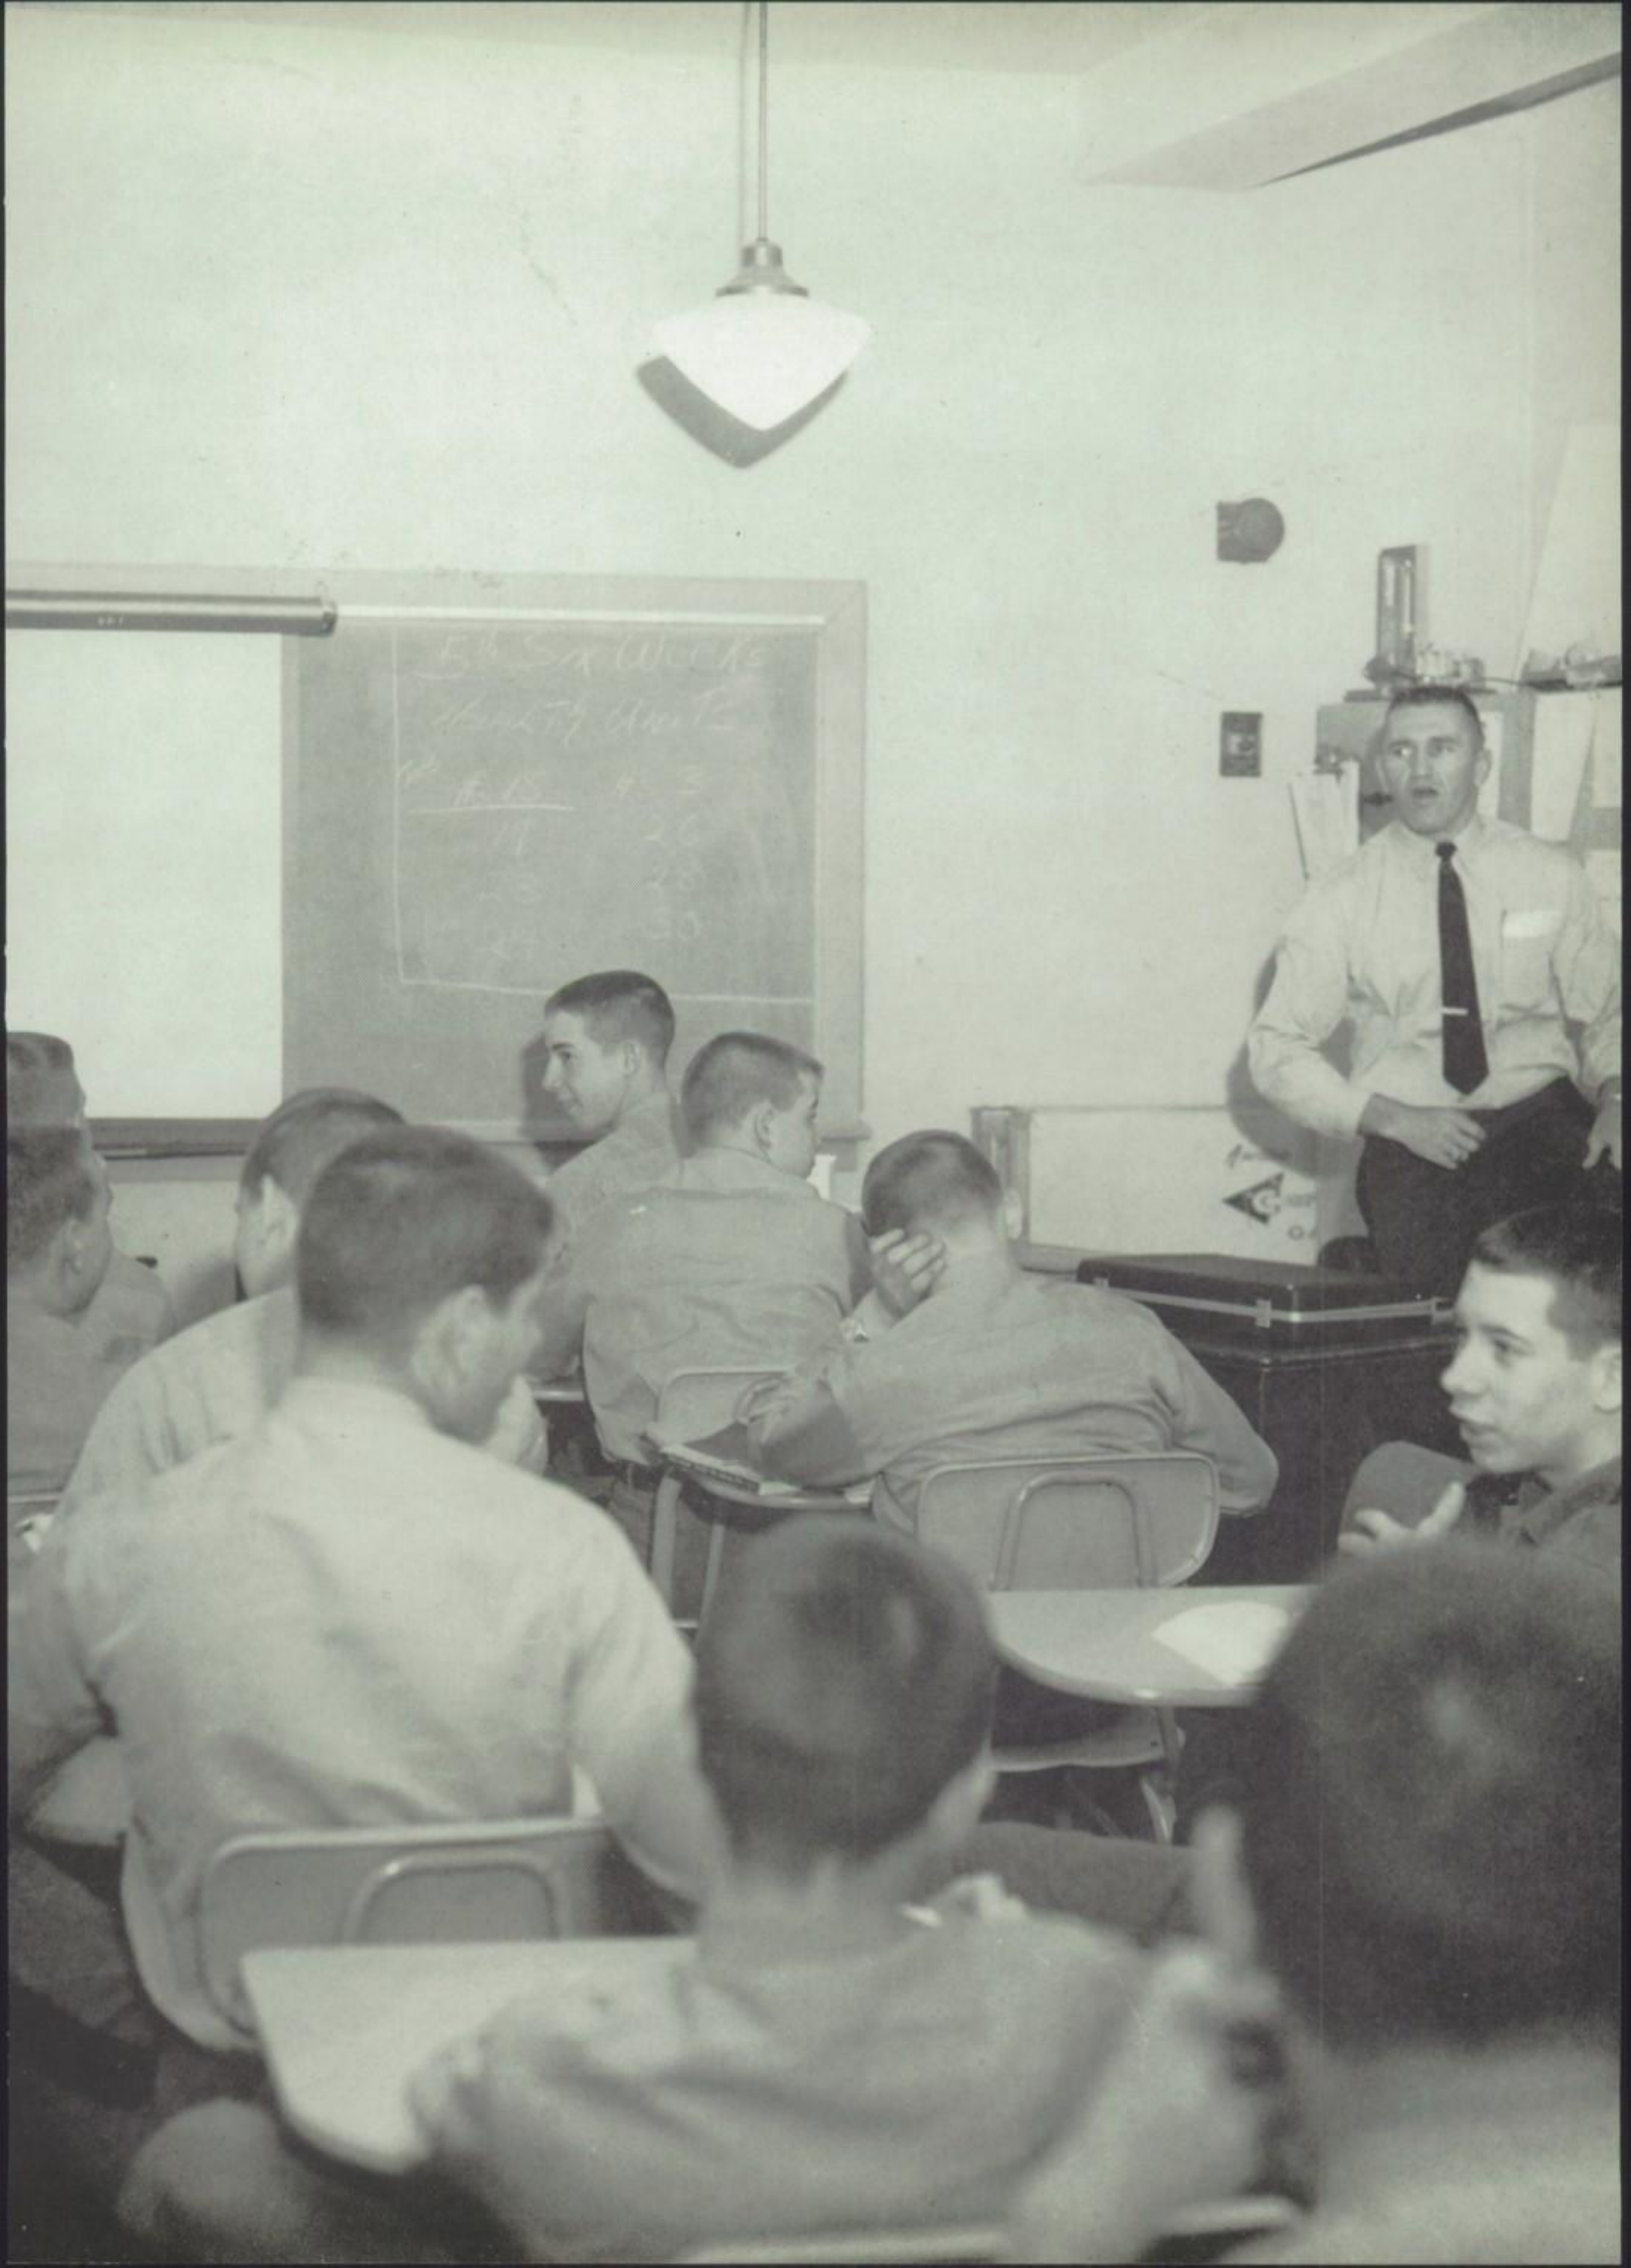
The Academics



HARGRAVE MILITARY ACADEMY

CHATHAM, VIRGINIA

TELEPHONE HEMLOCK 2-2481

May 27, 1966

Dear Graduating Senior:

The achievement of graduation is something to be excited about! Happiness itself is measured in some sense in terms of achievement. One should deserve to congratulate himself. When one has done a reasonably good job, he has self-approval. He is able "to pat himself on the back without breaking his arm."

When we wish you happiness we are actually saying to you, "We hope that you are going to continue to achieve." College beckons to most of you. We, at Hargrave, have sought to introduce you to the meaning of success in academic studies. You should know how to study. You have learned to discipline yourselves to study. College should mean a continuation on the upward climb toward personal success in living, in happiness.

For some of you, Hargrave may be the spring board which launches you into your career. You may be entering the armed services or some phase of business life. In the past this school has provided an excellent background for successful careers in both of these fields. Some of our most successful alumni secured their formal education at H.M.A. Achievement is unrestricted for those who have a purpose and a propulsion.

Your association with this school has written history for you and for the school. Some of Hargrave has rubbed off on you; a part of you has become a part of this school. Your constructive ideas and leadership have made this a better school. If you have "dragged your feet" or have resisted the positive efforts of faculty and staff to assist you, then scuff marks are not only on our walls, but also on your minds.

We have sought to provide the best instructors that we can secure. We believe that they are good teachers. However, our greatest desire has been to introduce you to the great Teacher. He will be constantly teaching you as you sit at His feet or as you follow Him in the way. The title of "Christian disciple" combines two of Hargrave's finest concepts, learning and discipline. When this is modified by Christ, we have the ideal combination for the student. We hope that we send you out as disciples of Christ, grounded in truth and dedicated to justice and righteousness.

Yours sincerely,

Joseph H. Cosby

The Class of 1967 is much like any other class here at Hargrave. They have climbed the ladder of education and all hope to receive that all-important Hargrave diploma next year.

This junior class has seen the Academy grow and expand, and they are proud to have been a part of it all. They have developed not only a sense of school pride, but also a strong sense of pride and devotion.

This year these young men became aware more than ever before the importance of good grades and the demand for a college degree in order to meet today's complex society. Their first taste of college boards and more difficult academic subjects told them that the road would not be easy. However, with a little effort, it would not be impossible. Thus, they accept this challenge to strive for the best possible preparation for their college years.

By being associated with many of the seniors, they also learned what it would be like to be graduating, and as alumni, add to Hargrave's greatness.

The members of the Class of 1968, though still young, are beginning to realize just what this game we call education is all about. Many are mediocre in their tastes and talents, but others are moving swiftly toward academic excellence.

This class represents the future leaders of Hargrave's Cadet Corps, as they will be seniors in a few short years. Most of these young men have been at Hargrave for two or more years, and they like to contribute in their small way to help push her higher up the academic ladder.

These young men look forward to next year, as most will be receiving rank. Although rank is not everything, it does mean a great deal to these younger members of the Corps. To them, rank will symbolize their merit of accomplishment.

Although they are only half way through their high school career, they know how important a good education will benefit them in later life. They also look forward to becoming alumni of Hargrave, as they have witnessed previous graduating classes becoming members of this most desired group.

The Class of 1969 were glad to return to Hargrave this year for their second year. They were now able to refer to themselves as "old boys", a title which carries a great deal of prestige here at the Academy. Last year, while first-year cadets, they followed the example set for them by the older boys. This year, however, the tables have been turned, and they are now setting the example for others to follow.

This class looks forward to three more years at the Academy. They see graduation and college as a far distant phase of life; however, such aspects of life are becoming more and more evident in their minds.

The members of the Class of 1969 will push Hargrave to even greater heights. Some of the cadets have found their goal in life, while others are still in doubt. However, they are all confident in the fact that Hargrave has meant a great deal to them, and such ideals are not easily lost through the coming years.

Honor Council ..... Terry Cox

The Class of 1970 see the first year at Hargrave as a new and totally different experience. The members of this class look toward the "old cadets" for guidance and leadership. This class faces four more years here at the Academy. They want to return year and year and one day walk up on the platform and receive their diploma.

They are young, true, but they are not too young to dream and have ideals. They may not realize how important good grades are now, but through the proper guidance, they will soon learn that good grades and hard work go hand-in-hand. They will follow their dreams and achieve success.

HONOR COUNCIL

The Honor Council is promoted and operated by the Cadets of Hargrave Military Academy. The Honor Council, which is composed of five members elected by their respective classes and three members appointed by the Administration from the Junior and Senior classes, promotes the Honor Code on cheating, lying, and stealing.

The HMA honor concept is one of the most important aspects of a cadet's life here at the Academy, and it probably contributes more to the character building of cadets than any other factor.

Hargrave was founded on the belief that along with a thorough development of the intellect of the high school student, there must be development of those personal qualities which will constitute a life of integrity and self-discipline. For this reason, our Honor System is the most important aspect of a cadet's life while he is here at the Academy.

This year, Mr. Frank H. Andrews served faithfully as Faculty Adviser to the Honor Council.

BETA CLUB

Probably the most select club on campus is the Beta Club. This club denotes leadership and character as well as academic achievement. Due to the rigid requirements for admission to this nationally known charter club, it is quite small here at the Academy.

Throughout the school year, the club holds special tapping ceremonies for the purpose of inducting new members into the Beta Club. However, the various cadets who are tapped at an assembly have been voted upon by the members and their records are carefully examined.

In addition, the members attended the State Beta Club Convention held this year in Roanoke in March.

This year, Captain Robert M. Davis, Jr. served the Beta Club as Faculty Adviser.

The Hargrave Sabre Club is composed of all cadet commissioned officers in the Corps of Cadets. At the club's regular meetings throughout the school year, they discuss the morale of the Corps along with any other problems which may arise, and possible solutions to these problems are discussed.

The Sabre Club sponsors the annual Military Ball each year, and this year's dance was hailed to be the best ever. The officers plan the dance to every detail and committees are chosen to decorate the new gym and to secure flowers and entertainment. This year a record number of officers, cadets, and parents attended the Ball, which was held on Saturday night, February 19.

N.C.O. CLUB

The N.C.O. Club is composed of all of the Non-commissioned officers here at Hargrave, which includes members of the Junior class as well as the Senior class. Much like the Sabre Club, which is composed of all the commissioned officers, the N.C.O. Club holds various meetings during the school year to discuss the ways to make the Corps of Cadets even better than it already is.

The N.C.O. Club is the sponsor of the annual N.C.O. Dance, which is held at Parent's Weekend.

Many of the members of this club are Juniors, which means that they all have hopes of being able to become a member of the Sabre Club.

Like many of the other clubs and organizations here at the Academy, the N.C.O. Club holds an annual banquet each year in Danville at the end of the school year.

Major Orlin W. Rogers, Professor of Military Science, serves faithfully as Faculty Adviser to the club.

The Publications Board is composed of the editors, managing editors, and business managers of both THE CADENCE, the yearbook, and THE MUSKETEER, the newspaper.

The main job of the Publications Board is to make sure that a newspaper and an annual is published during the school year. However, this is only one job which this organization performs. Its other jobs include the making sure that the material and information used in all of the publications are in good taste and with the idea that all such material is in the best interest of the school. It also is concerned with the cooperation of the two various staffs in order to better promote the ideas and principles of good journalism at Hargrave.

JOURNALISM CLUB

This club is composed of all of the cadets who are on the staff of either the MUSKETEER or THE CADENCE. During its regular weekly meetings, the editors assign articles and stories to the reporters, plan coming events and make sure that photographers will be on hand, and discuss various problems which may arise on either the newspaper or the annual.

The members of the Journalism Club vary in both grades as well as ages, but all are interested in one thing — the art of journalism. All cadets who show any potential in the field of journalism are invited to join. During the meetings, cadets learn many principles of good journalism.

At the end of the year, the members go to Danville for a banquet. Although the members of this club receive bars for their efforts, their main reward is the pride they have whenever one of their stories are published in one of the monthly issues of THE MUSKETEER, or whenever they buy an annual and realize that they helped in the preparation of the book. This is worth more to these boys than any other reward which the school may bestow upon them.

QUILL AND SCROLL

The Quill and Scroll, which is an international honorary society for high school journalists, is composed of those cadets who show a strong interest for journalism and are active in the various school publications.

The requirements for admission to this club are set by the Board of Trustees of the Quill and Scroll Society of the State University of Iowa, and Hargrave received its charter from them in 1960. Since that time, Hargrave has had an active chapter.

Each year the members vote on qualified cadets for membership into this honor society. Membership in this organization includes the subscription to the society's monthly magazine, QUILL AND SCROLL, from which many of its members learn new ideas and methods in order to improve the quality of the publications here at Hargrave.

Mr. Melvin L. Shreves also serves this organization as its Faculty Adviser.

MUSKETEER STAFF

Alvah C. Arnn
Editor-in-Chief

Scott A. Gordy
Managing Editor

THE MUSKETEER is the Academy's monthly newspaper which is published by the members of the Journalism Club. The monthly paper has a circulation of over 2,000 and is distributed to every cadet. As on all of the publications, cadets devote much of their free time and energy to accomplish the task of making sure that a paper is put out each month, September through May.

The paper, as in most high schools and colleges, plays an important part in the life of a Hargrave cadet. Many of the cadets take a great interest in the newspaper, even if they do not actually work on it.

The staff operates a complete dark room, from which all of the photographs which are used are developed and printed each month, as well as many of the photographs which are used in the yearbook.

THE MUSKETEER this year was headed by Alvah C. Arnn, who served as Editor-in-Chief. Mr. Melvin L. Shreves, Jr. served faithfully as Faculty Adviser.

CHRISTIAN ACTIVITIES COUNCIL

The Christian Activities Council is a council consisting of a member of every religious group and sect represented here at Hargrave. The main purpose of the Christian Activities Council is to improve the relations of the various denominations. Its members, who are elected to this group by their respective church groups, sponsors the annual Faith Home Party. This party, held for the children of The Faith Home prior to Christmas leave, sends each cadet home with the true Christmas spirit.

The members of the Christian Activities Council also attend various meeting throughout the state, give the vesper services throughout the year, and are responsible for the giving of thanks before each meal in the Mess Hall.

This past February its members attended a convention at Natural Bridge, Virginia, where most of the private schools throughout the state send representatives.

The Chaplain, Mr. Julian P. Griffin, served this group again as its Faculty Adviser. The Council held regular meetings each week under his supervision.

The International Relations Club is a club which is open to all cadets for membership. The only requirement is a keen sense and interest in foreign affairs and world events. During the Club's regular meetings throughout the school year, cadets present programs dealing with foreign problems, situations, or crises as they become news. Each cadet in the Club will present a program before the other members during the course of the year.

This year, the Club was divided into two different sections, as the membership rose to an all-time high again this year. At the end of the year, its members enjoy a steak dinner and banquet in Danville to wind up another successful year for the Club.

This year Mr. Roger C. Wiley served faithfully as Faculty Adviser to one section and Captain John W. Greene served as Faculty Adviser to the other section.

SENIOR GLEE CLUB

For the first time at Hargrave, the Glee Club members were given academic credit for taking the course this year. This year the Glee Club met during the sixth period during the afternoons. Since the class met just like any other class for required time, grades were issued and credit was given.

As in the past, the Glee Club went on various trips throughout the year, along with giving various concerts at Christmas and in the Spring.

Captain Roy L. Callahan served as Faculty Adviser and instructor to this group, while Mrs. James E. Parsons served at accompanist. Last year, Mrs. Parsons was in charge of the Junior Glee Club, but this year that organization was disbanded as these boys were inducted into the Senior Glee Club.

Captain Roy L. Callahan, Band and Chorus Director.

DRAMATICS CLUB

The Dramatics Club, under the direction of Captain I. M. Meekins, put on a number of dramatic performances throughout the year. "Stalag 17" was presented early in the year, and this was followed by several other performances.

Last year was the first year that the idea of dramatics really got its start here at Hargrave. The members of this club have to work hard and reherse almost daily.

These cadets, along with their adviser, deserve a great deal of credit. It is almost certain that some of these members will go into the theater for a career.

Members of the Dramatics Club, under the direction of Captain I. M. Meekins, presented a workshop version of "Stalag 17" for the entertainment of the Corps one Friday night.

THE COMBO CLUB

This year at Hargrave, "Jay and the Chevelles" made it a good year. This organization, which started under the direction of Jay Barker, has made a great deal of improvement during the past few years, and we feel as though they reached a peak in musical excellence this year. They played for a number of dances at the local churches, Armory, and at private parties. Not only do the "Chevelles" play the popular songs of the day, but they also write a number of their own songs. However, this does not come over-night. These cadets practice night and day in order to sound their best.

This group has performed on both radio and television, and Captain Roy L. Callahan, Band Director at Hargrave, serves as Faculty Adviser to this group.

THE RADIO CLUB

The Radio Club here at Hargrave operates radio station WHMA. This project, which was undertaken last year, has proved to be very successful. The cadets who are in this club are active and all enjoy working with their own station.

The idea of a radio station on campus was first brought up a number of years ago. However the actual construction of such a station did not come until last year. Now the station is very popular with all of the cadets. "Tiger Radio" is known by everyone.

Col. Ray B. Nichols served this year as faculty advisor, and much of the credit for the success of the club must go to him.

THE BIOLOGY CLUB

The Biology Club here at Hargrave is one of the newer clubs on campus. Under the leadership of Mr. Tommy Geyer, this club was first organized last year. Although this was a new club, many cadets came out to join it.

This year, during their regular meetings, the members discussed many things dealing in the field of biology and other fields of science. Along with the members of the Physics class, the Biology Club traveled to Elon College, North Carolina, where they visited the Carolina Biological Supply Co.

THE SKEET CLUB

For a number of years, the Skeet Club has been a very popular organization on campus. The members of this club go to the school's skeet range nearly every day where they learn the principles of good marksmanship and gun handling.

This year was no exception, as the skeet club had another good year. Under the direction of their sponsor, Major Landon Spradlin, the Skeet Club has made rapid improvement from their organization three years ago.

The members of this club own their own shotguns and buy their shells. However, most of the members refill their own shells, as the club owns all of the equipment in order to do this.

THE CAMDEN RIFLES

The Camden Rifles, named for Colonel A. H. Camden, President Emeritus of Hargrave, is the crack-drill platoon. These cadets practice everyday, as they know the best way to gain the perfection they want is only through daily practice. Their reward comes whenever they travel to another city and participate in a parade.

The Camden Rifles, along with the Hargrave Marching Band, travel to many cities throughout the state and elsewhere to participate in parades.

Under the leadership and direction of their adviser, Captain R. D. Camper, the Camden Rifles have won many honors and awards. This year, Captain Joseph C. Robertson served as Commander to this group.

THE MILITARY BALL 1966

MISS SANDRE PETTIT
Burlington, North Carolina
QUEEN OF THE 1966 MILITARY BALL

The Honor Guard helped to make the Military Ball the best ever.

Major John R. Bell and his date lead the officers as they are announced.

The officers follow Major John Bell as over 800 people watch inside the gym.

The officers, in rows of two, are led by Captain Fred Minton and Major John Bell, along with their dates.

As the officers perform, a group of distingu'sh judges are judging each girl and a queen will soon be selected.

The officers go around for the final time, and break off in two's.

For weeks and months there had been the preparation and the anticipation — now it was happening.

As they go around again each officer is wondering whether his date will be selected or not as queen.

As queen is chcsen, Miss Sandre Pettit, escorted by Lieutenant Bill Mackinnon, and they pass under the crossed sabres.

As the dance, the pause that refreshes.

For over 800 guests, there must be over 800 hats, coats, and other wraps.

The queen is crowned and given a kiss by Major Rogers, P.M.S.

GLAD TO JUDGE CONTEST FOR YOU. HOPE TO HEAR FROM YOU SOON.

JOHNNY CARSON

THE COMPANY WILL APPRECIATE SUGGESTIONS FROM ITS PATRONS CONCERNING ITS SERVICE

For our first beauty contest, the staff chose Mr. Johnny Carson of the National Broadcasting Company to act as the official judge.

After collecting the nearly two-hundred pictures which were submitted for competition by the cadets, a committee of five cadets reviewed each picture and chose the top seven girls to be sent to Mr. Carson. This committee was composed of the following cadets: Fred Minton, Ken Ward, Walter Smiley, Mac McClung, and David Whitten.

This contest was opened to all cadets and all were urged to take part. Basically, there were four rules: The sponsor had to at least know the girl, the girl must be under twenty-three years of age, the sponsor must have the girl's permission to enter his picture, and the girls could not be married.

Out of the top seven girls selected by the preliminary judges, Mr. Johnny Carson chose Miss Marie Montgomery of Decatur, Georgia, as "Miss Cadence" of 1966. Also named were Miss Elaine Gier as First-runner-up and Miss Amaryallis Lee as Second Runner-up.

Our appreciation goes to Mr. Carson, the preliminary judges, the sponsors, and to all of those who contributed freely of their time and effort to help make our contest the success that it was.

It is this year's yearbook staff's request that such a contest be held each year, as it stirs up a great deal of excitement in the corps and adds to yearbook sales.

Our gratulations go to our newly-named queens and their sponsors. The girls' pictures adorn the next two pages, as we have presented them to you for your final approval.

WALTER R. DAVIS — ALUMNI MEMORIAL GYMNASIUM

Director of Physical Education

Hargrave has always been proud of her outstanding athletic program. Cadets are offered a comprehensive program of athletics at the varsity, junior varsity, and junior high levels. There is also Circuit Training, Intramurals, and regular Physical Education daily for the cadet.

It is the job and major responsibility of Coach Neilson to make sure that all phases of athletic instruction are presented to the cadets. Under his direction for the past two years, the Athletic Department here at Hargrave has made great gains, and more such improvements are expected in the future.

"Without a little excitement around the campus, the Cadet's life would be miserable. In fact, the Cadet's life is miserable. But, like the Academy, it must be taken with a grain of salt, and, like the Academy, it is an. . . .

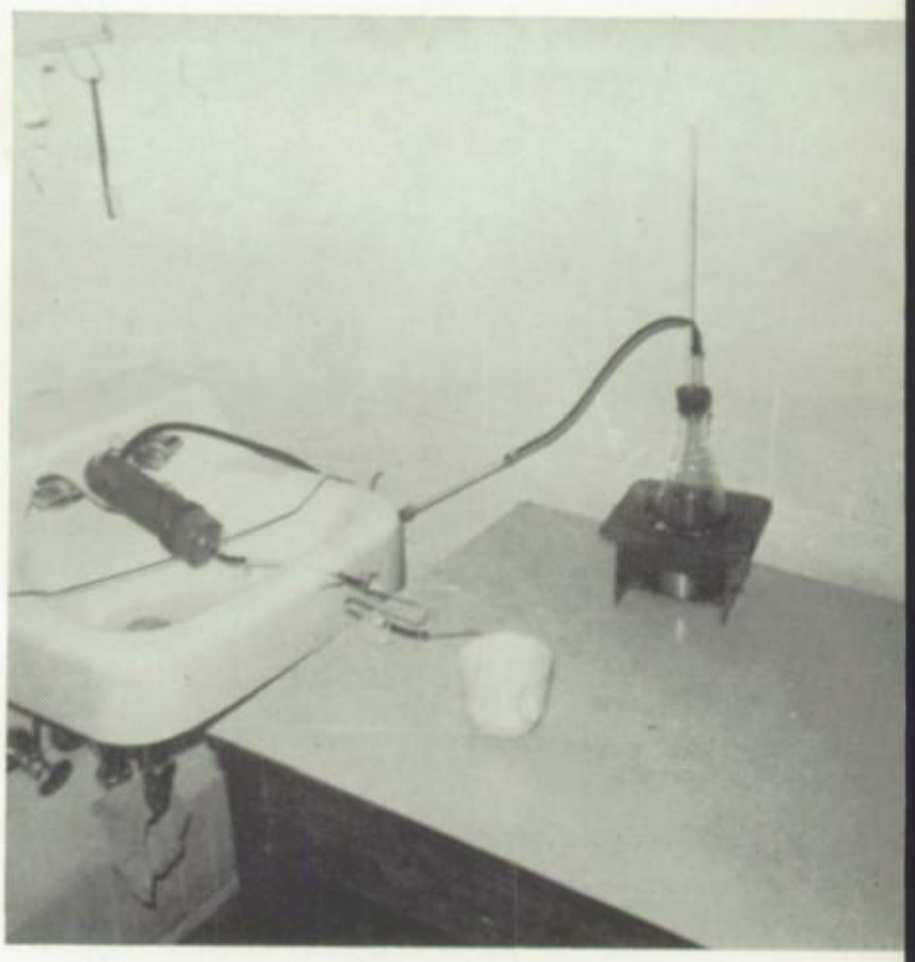
Outrage

Could it be that someone re-painted the Hall's tank. . . . ?

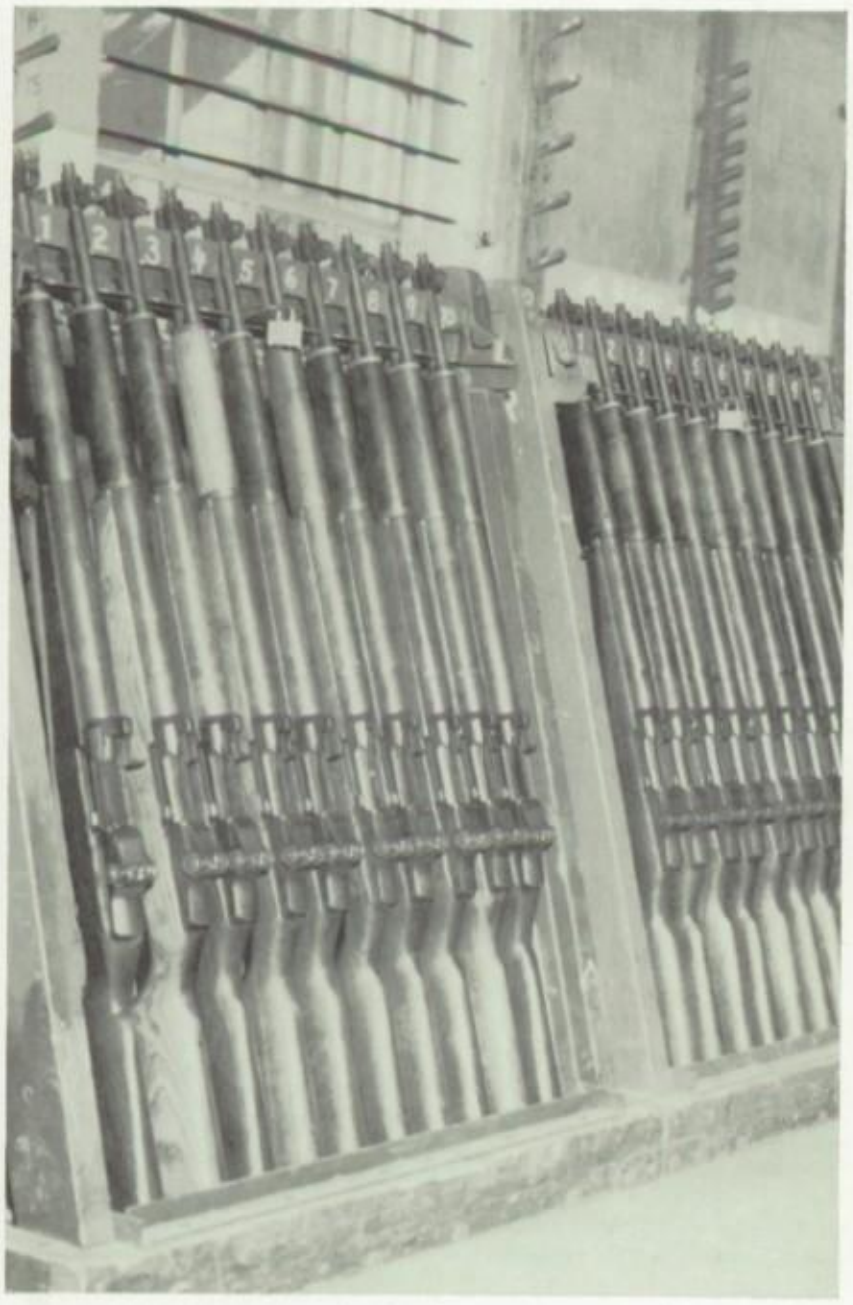
Well, fella, it isn't anything to write home about . . .

1966 . . . Military Ball . . . Holiday Inn . . . Room #318 . . . need we say more?

No zip code . . . no barracks number . . . no return address . . . no mail!



Hargrave cadets are noted for doing the impossible. They said that it couldn't be done, but . . .



Ah . . . what fun we had with these . . .

Character? . . . character? . . . character? Who needs it?

The opening of school — our hair was cut so fast that we were amazed, but "easy come, easy go."

We wonder how they really sounded . . . but, we can imagine from the expressions on the cadet's faces . . .

Who ever said that the Band Barracks didn't have a monster? It struck in you know who's room one night . . .

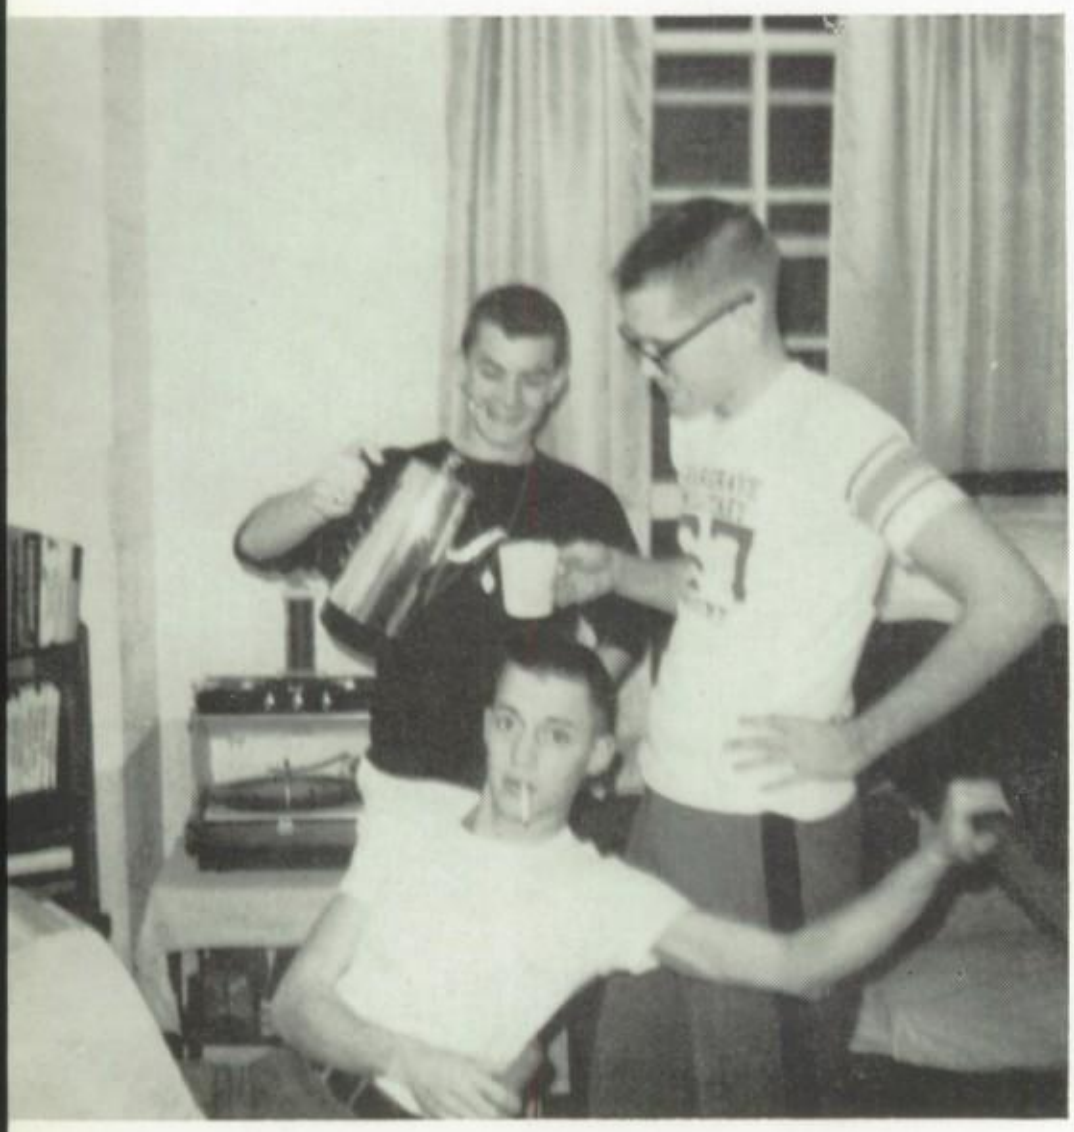
And, then there was the exercise periods . . .

A typical drill day . . .

And . . . who could ever forget that ultra-equipped student lounge . . . ?

We were forced to use any means . . .

And, could we ever forget whenever Major Rogers, while at the officer's banquet, introduced "The Lone Wolf!"



Well . . . hello Curtis . . . !

A typical cadet room before inspection . . .

Hargrave has always been proud of the Infirmary staff — as exhibited by this patient's good physical condition.

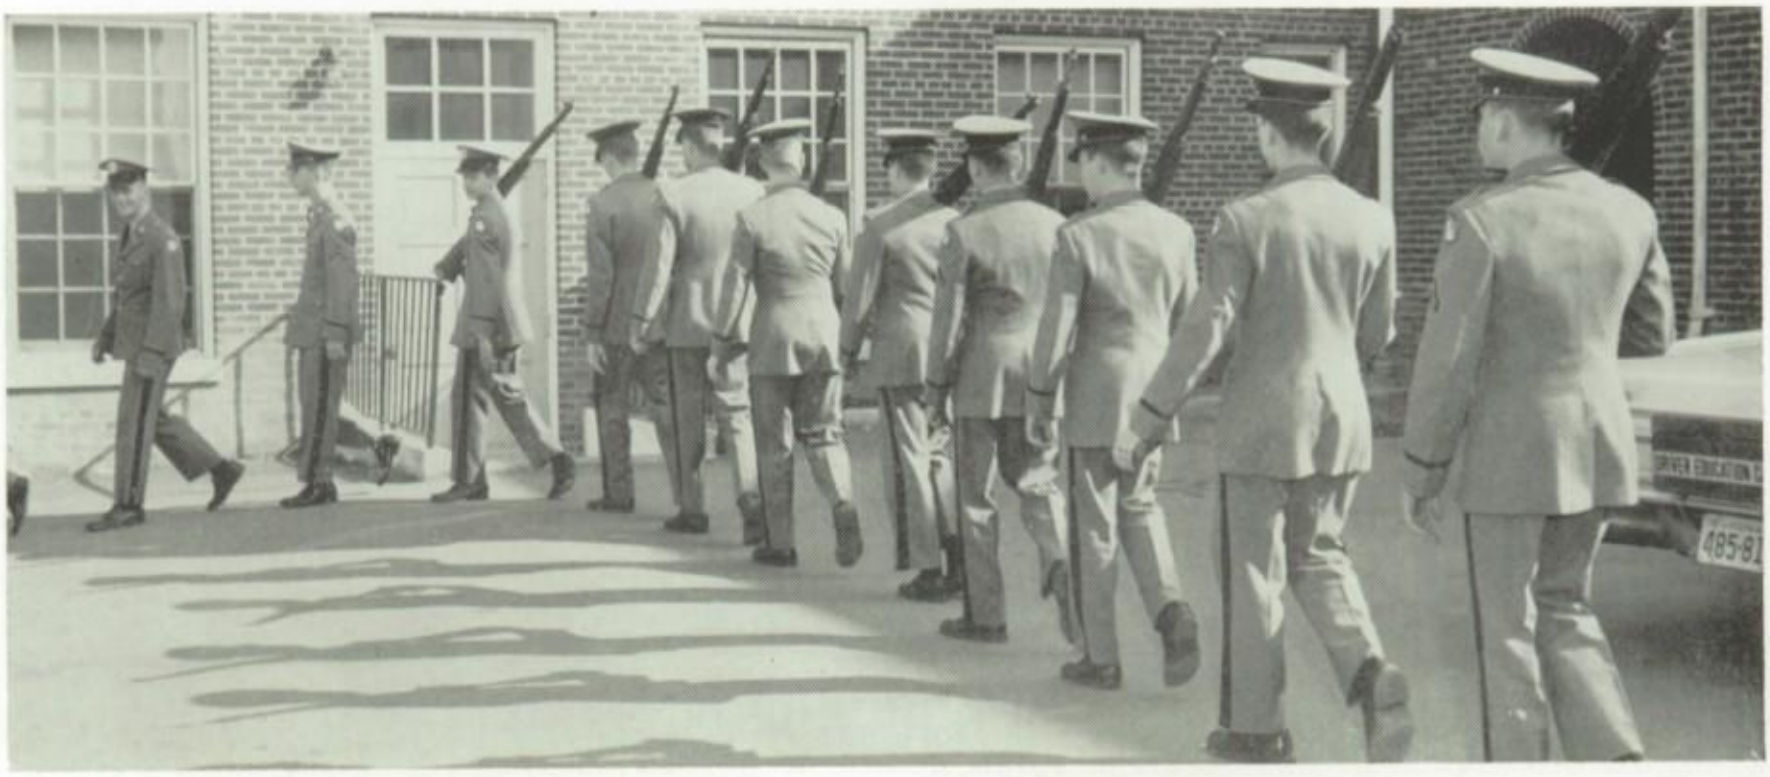
Getting a phone was always 5-1 odds against you . . .

Then . . . there was always the usual group in front of Col. Todd's office trying to get their tours off . . . good luck!

The pause that refreshes . . .

If there was some way to sell all of this hair, I would be rich . . . but . . .

Whenever we find that the barracks life is too noisy, we go somewhere to find peace and quiet . . .

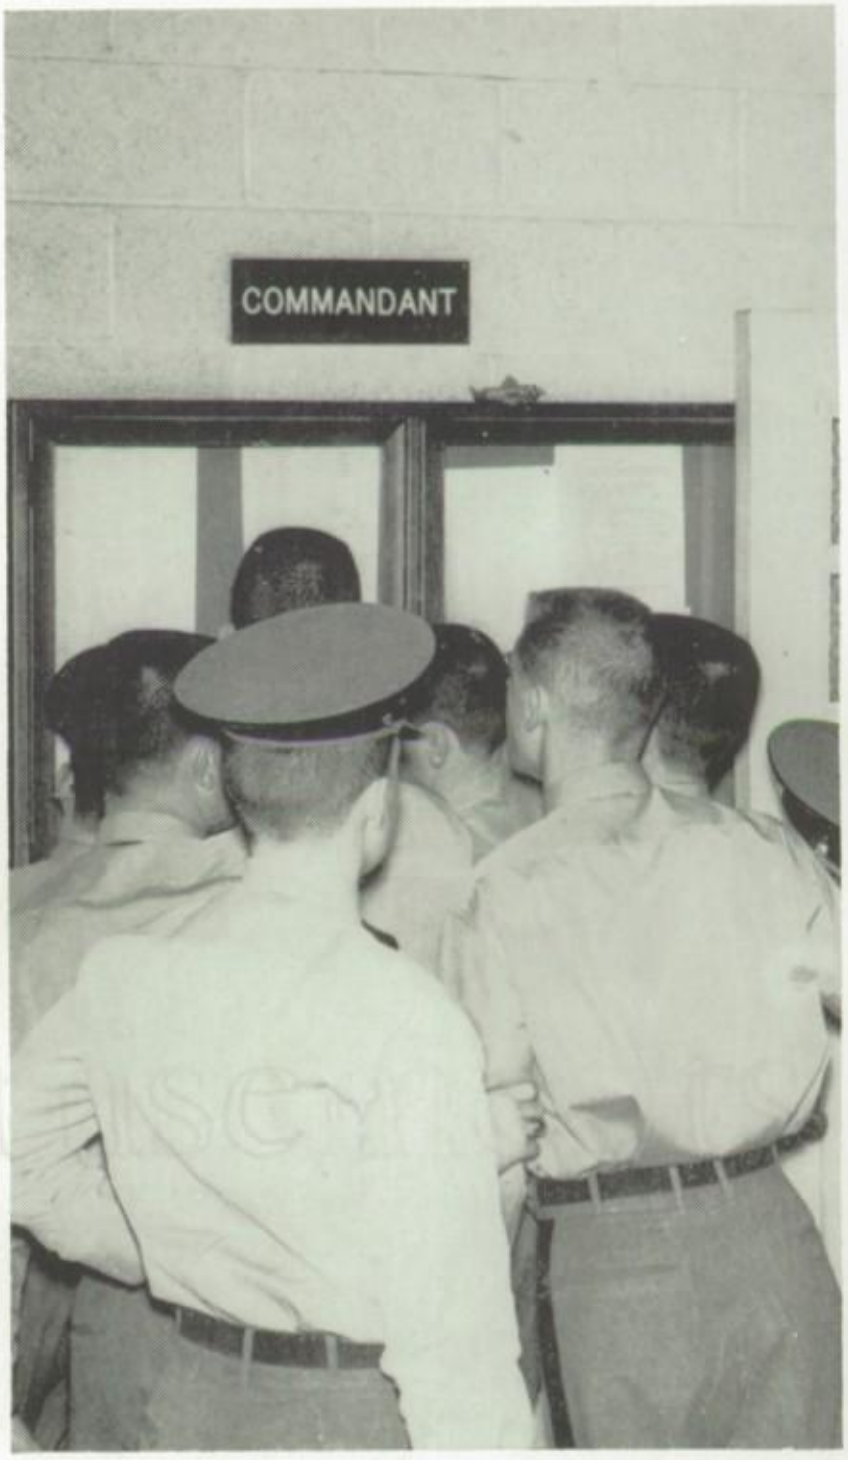


New members of the 50-mile club . . . very elite at Hargrave . . .

Now, if it was left up to me . . .

"If you think that this is a record in a phone booth, you should have seen us get 16 in a taxi downtown . . ."

"Well . . . that sorry . . . he stuck me again!"



"What do you mean your mother is watching?"

The Hargrave jet; the only one of its kind . . .

It was Parent's Weekend, and what other time would it be best to hit the parents for a little "greens for the greenhouse?"

EPILOGUE

In the publication of THE CADENCE, 56 editors and their staffs have lost sleep, health, and peace of mind. This year has been no exception, as the number rises to 57 editors and their staffs.

In order to present a pictoral account of Hargrave's 57th year, the staff and others have contributed — not without pleasures and some disappointments — their thoughts, hours, and hard work to try to publish the best possible yearbook. They have earned their reward and thanks in a million ways.

Our special thanks must go to the following who aided generously with the completion of our task and we offer our heartfelt thanks to them: Colonel Joseph H. Cosby, President; Lt. Colonel Vernon T. Lankford, Academic Dean; Lt. Colonel Andrew W. Todd, Commandant; Major Orlin W. Rogers, PMS; Mr. W. O. Day, Senior Class Adviser; Mr. Melvin L. Shreves, Public Relations Director and adviser to THE CADENCE; Mrs. Peggy Stogner and Mrs. W. R. Moore, secretaries; Colonel W. O. Tune, Business Manager; and Mrs. J. B. Grubb, Bookkeeper.

We remember and thank especially Mr. Will D. Baugh, J. P. Bell Company of Lynchburg, Virginia; Mr. Jim Burton, Charlotte Engraving Company, Charlotte, North Carolina; and Mr. Raymond Hitchcock, Hitchcock Studio, Danville, Virginia. All of these men helped us in untold many ways in the completion of the book.

And last — but very far from the least — we must extend our deepest appreciation to the Cadet Corps who were behind us throughout the year, and whom it has been my privilege to serve as their editor-in-chief for the past year.
